Subject Re: comments on patent system reform

Urgent Return receipt Sign Encrypt

Dear Sir/Madam,

Our company, Universal Display Corporation, focuses on R&D and licensing our IPs to customers. We are experts in IP with more than 1000 issued and pending patents worldwide. Based on our strong background in this area, my comment for the patent system in HK is

Keep the entire system as it is, with the exception that, for HK standard patent applications, patent applications or patents from more international patent offices should be accepted, in addition to the 3 current offices. In particular, US and Japan should be included. There is no need to worry about the patent law differences because they are more or less evolving into a very similar system. Some differences will always exist and they do in the current 3 offices anyway. This modification is cost effective and will expand the scope so more inventors and companies will benefit.

Best regards,
 Ray
